

SUN BEAMS

By WALTER M. BARRETT

Although the trout fishing season closed on the Truckee river and its tributaries on October 15, this fact would be difficult to believe had a survey been made of the streams last week end. Whether through ignorance or in direct violation, scores of fishermen, some of them prominent sportsmen, were seen fishing along the Truckee and other closed streams in this district. Many returned to Truckee and Reno bragging of their catches. That is a condition which should not be tolerated. Only a week ago, 171,000 baby trout were freed in the Truckee river after being raised at a cost exceeding $1000, paid for by Truckee merchants and the San Francisco Flycasting Club. This sum represents only a small part of the actual expense of raising the trout for sportsmen who abide by the laws and was not intended for the many flagrant violators. If given a chance, those 171,000 rainbows will develop and be ready for the nimrod's next season, but if everyone and anyone is permitted to fish until the snow drives them off the streams there will be a far different story and the money we spent to raise the trout will be wasted. We realize that it is impossible for even the best game wardens to be in two places at one time, but we do feel that the Truckee river and adjacent streams and lakes are of sufficient importance to justify a full-time man in this area.

The Tahoe Ski Club got away to a flying start for the year last week and this week six of the stars from the lake will participate, as guests of the state chamber of commerce, in the Winter sports carnival in Oakland. Tahoe has a club of which to be justly proud and the district may well be commended for its support of the live-wire organization. We'll venture to predict that the Tahoe boys will go a long way this year in snow sport activities.

That was a splendid gesture the people of Hobart Mills made last week in honoring Mr. and Mrs. Tom Oliver at a reception upon their departure for new fields. It is not often in these days of unrest in the labor world that an official so endears himself to his employees that they consider him one of the family and find it their pleasure to signify honor him. However, in this case the confidence and good will of the people of Hobart Mills was justified and we join them in wishing Mr. and Mrs. Oliver the best of success in their new position.

Once again the tourist season in Truckee is nearing an end and once more we must learn to depend upon one another for our winter patronage. With winter sports still only a lingering hope, we must if we are going to have a successful winter, help one another. Instead of shopping from catalogs and in distant cities, spent your Truckee-earned money here and you will find that winters in Truckee are as profitable and as enjoyable as any town you can mention. It is the merchant of your town that makes it a good or mediocre place in which to live, but it is entirely up to you as individuals to say whether the merchant or businessman can make your town better. He needs your support.

Saturday night your fire department is staging a dance for the purpose of raising money to make the organization even more efficient than at present. The volunteers ask your support. They are sparing no effort to make the affair a success and promise an evening full of entertainment. All they ask is a chance to show you a good time and in return seek your support.

CLIPPER SHIP WAS NEARLY LANDED ON TAHOE DURING FOG

The Pan American China Clipper landed at its Alameda base on October 26 after officials had previously considered the advisability of an emergency landing at either Lake Tahoe, Clear Lake or the Salton Sea in southern California.

After several hours of dense fog over the base, Captain Terpetzky took advantage of the sudden lift to deliver his nine passengers and crew of eight safely.

NEGRO DEATH CAR DRIVER IS GIVEN YEAR IN JAIL

Judge Tuttle Explains Stand In Sentencing Smith To Jail

PROBATION IS DENIED

Negro Chauffeur To Serve Term For Negligent Homicide

Raymond T. Smith, colored chauffeur for William Williams of Santa Monica, wealthy oil man, was sentenced to serve a year in the county jail when he came before Superior Judge Raglan Tuttle this week.

Smith was driving the car which collided with one near Cisco last July 4, killing Mr. and Mrs. Asa Eddings and their small daughter.

The request for probation asked at the conclusion of the recent trial, was denied.

In passing sentence, Judge Tuttle declared:

"This defendant was convicted of the crime of negligent homicide, under a statute recently passed by the legislature making it a felony for anyone, who being negligent in the act of driving an automobile causes the death of some one else in an accident.

"He was tried by a jury and found guilty. Personally I don't believe that I will send this defendant to the penitentiary, I don't think the crime warrants that. The crime was rather a peculiar one because it doesn't call for any criminal intent on the part of the person driving and really it is just, you might say, good luck on the part of a good many that we don't get in the predicament that this man was in.

"Of course he didn't intend to kill anyone. Nevertheless it is a very serious thing, it is something that is reprehensible in the eyes of the law. The legislature says it shall be punished and it shall be punished."

TRUCKEE FOOTBALL TEAM WINS GAME FROM TAHOE BOYS

The boys of the Meadow Lake Union high school won a hard-earned victory over a squad of Tahoe City boys in another of a series of grid-iron battles that is being fought between the two groups for the unofficial High Sierra championship.

The final score was Truckee, 12; Tahoe, 2.

The local squad failed to click during the first half, and were held without more than two first downs against the Tahoe's five. In the third frame Captain Bob Bowers ran over for a touchdown in the first few minutes of play but the Truckee hopefuls failed to convert. Toward the closing moments of the third quarter, Fullback George Zorich of Truckee rammed the Tahoe wall for a second score. An attempted conversion, Bowers to Schmidt, failed. Tahoe's score came in the fourth quarter when a Truckee player was tackled behind his own goal line.

While the Truckee team was more powerful and shined especially on the defensive, the Tahoe team showed speed in running plays and accuracy in passing.

WHISKERS CITED AS DIVORCE GROUNDS

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 28.—(UP)—Whiskers were cited as grounds for divorce in a complaint on file in superior court here.

Mrs. Mary N. True instituted the suit against George M. True. She charged he had worked in only two of the last nine years and never bought her a Christmas or birthday presents. In addition, the complaint read:

"The defendant raised a mustache and whiskers just to spite the plaintiff."

A Truckee man's photograph of a historic structure has gained national prominence by being reproduced for the cover of a widely circulated publication.

Roy A. Feathers photographed the pioneer Masonic temple located at Hornitos, Mariposa county, which has the distinction of being the only Masonic lodge in the state permitted to hold meetings on the ground floor, and had the distinction of having the picture appear on the cover of the current issue of The New Age, a Masonic magazine published in Washington, D. C.

An article also told of the affiliation of Feathers with Truckee Lodge No. 200, F. and A. M. and the history of the Hornitos lodge.

Edward Duquette, 50, an employee of the Woods Construction company, contractors working on the gravel contract on the Truckee-Sierraville road, expired Friday night following a heart attack.

The unconscious man was found just outside his home and W. S. Joiner of Hobart Mills rushed him to Truckee for medical aid, but he was pronounced dead upon arrival.

Duquette had resided at Hobart Mills all during the past summer while the road work has been going on. Prior to that he had lived at various places in Sierra Valley.

Little is known of his past and relatives were not immediately located.

NEED FOR MEMBERS N IN P. T. A. STRESSED BY STATE OFFICIAL

Mrs. S. M. Richardson, Mrs. Lotta Bryant and Mrs. S. E. Gordon last Saturday attended a meeting of the 13th District of the Parent-Teacher association held in Sierraville where Mrs. B. C. Clark, state president, was the speaker. Mrs. Sutton, district president from Downieville, presided.

Mrs. Clark spoke on "Membership", declaring that it should be considered a privilege to belong to the P. T. A. She brought out three salient points for the members to work toward. The first, a membership to observe; second, membership to study and third, a membership to act. All these points she said should be followed with the welfare of the child always as the goal.

"As our own membership drive is now on let us all think of membership in the P. T. A. as a privilege to serve for the welfare of our children," Mrs. Gordon, president of the Truckee unit declared.

First returns from the 375 questionnaires sent out to local voters to determine their attitude on incorporating Truckee, last Monday showed the following results:

Cards returned, 158.
For incorporation, 45.
Against incorporation, 96.
Asking for more information, 17.

The results were tabulated by Mrs. Lotta Bryant, secretary of the local chamber of commerce, which sent out the queries, and were reported at the meeting held Monday.

More than 200 of the cards had not been returned Monday.

The chamber of commerce sent out the cards for the purpose of gaining an unbiased opinion of the voters. The action does not reflect the attitude of the chamber or any of its members.

When efforts were made some ten years ago to incorporate Truckee, the issue was defeated more than 10 to 1.

The latest machines built by the department will put down 20 to 25 miles of stripe per day, laying either a four inch stripe or two three inch stripes separated by a three inch black stripe. Earlier machines would put down only a few miles of straight line during a day's operation, the officials said.

Survey Being Made On New Local District

Water Engineers To Decide On Ways of Getting Commodity

Richard Joseph, who recently announced the purchase of 320 acres of land, adjoining Truckee on the west and extending to the Tahoe-Truckee Wye, said that he had been conferring with engineers in Reno relative to installing an adequate water supply for the tract which he plans to subdivide.

There are three surveyors engaged in plotting the section, Joseph said, and it is hoped to have the subdivision opened by early spring.

Inquiries, he said, are continuing to pour in as prospective home builders and business men seek information on the land.

A decision will be made soon as to whether or not the proposed new American Legion memorial building will be erected on a site near the Wye which the owner agreed to donate.

Firemen Hold Busy Meeting; Plan For Dance

New Equipment To Be Added To Department For Emergencies

An almost 100 per cent turn out featured the dinner meeting of the Truckee Volunteer Fire Department at the St. Louis cafe on Monday evening. Chief Tom Dolley presided.

The firemen were attired for the first time in their new blue shirts and white neckties, which offer an imposing sight. The new badges were issued at the meeting.

It was decided to purchase a fog nozzle for combating oil or gas fires or where heavy smoke hinders the fighting. A canvass cover will also be bought to protect the hose and equipment on the truck. Only recently the commissioners ordered new hose to replace that which is no longer serviceable.

Plans for the dance Saturday were completed.

TRUCKEE RESIDENT EXPIRES IN NEVADA COUNTY HOSPITAL

McAfee was a native of Oklahoma. Arrangements were made to return the body to that state for interment.

LIONS INFORMALLY TALK INCORPORATION

An informal discussion on the advisability of incorporating Truckee featured a meeting of the local Lions club last night. Bert Daniels, a former city official of Arcadia told briefly of the advantages of such a step, citing the fact that in town, they found incorporation was inexpensive and that the benefits would take some time to recite.

Besides Daniels, A. M. Richardson of Lake Tahoe attended the meeting and spoke briefly.

THEFT SERIES NETS ROBBERS WATCH, MONEY

Cars, Stores Burglarized By Prowler During Night

DESCRIPTION IS GIVEN

Valuable Loot Is Taken From Car Parked On Street

A series of thefts and attempted robberies was reported to officers here over the last week end.

Three cars, which had been left parked on the street over night were broken into and valuable loot was taken from one, according to information given Deputy Sheriff Tom Dolley, who was asked to investigate.

L. C. Barlow of Los Angeles said the thief took a 12-gauge Remington shotgun, $15 in currency, a pair of pants and a watch valued at over $100.

The owners of the other cars said nothing of value was taken although the cars were looted.

Walter Ashton, manager of the Truckee Meat Market, said the thief drilled holes in the iron door in the rear of the market, opened one of the locks, but was foiled by a heavy iron bar across the lower part of the door.

Gregory Brothers reported that a prowler broke the glass in a window at their service station the same night but evidently did not gain entrance.

A description of the loot taken from the car was sent out over the state teletype system. Officers said they believed someone familiar with the movements of the nightwatch were responsible.

TAX STATEMENTS BEING ISSUED TO LOCAL TAXPAYERS

EDITORIALS

A WISE MAN'S PENNIES

If there was ever a wise and thrifty American, it was Benjamin Franklin, Esq., merchant, inventor, philosopher and statesman.

We mention this not because there is any dispute about it, but because it helps shed light on a matter the editor must tackle every now and then. But since this matter of advertising is of vital importance to the reader too, the editor may be pardoned for bringing the subject up.

Ben Franklin, who was never a man to squander his pence well knew the value of advertising not only his own, but his family's goods, in the newspapers—even in the 1720's when Philadelphia's population numbered but a handful. Though certain a man's sins would find him out, Franklin didn't believe the same held true of a merchant's goods, no matter how excellent they were. His wife, Deborah, had in stock a very good grade of toilet soap, but instead of depending on the neighbors to notice it about, he told the town about it in the "Pennsylvania Gazette."

Here is a typical Franklin ad: "Just import'd from Lond. and to be sold by B. Franklin, at the post office near the market in Philadelphia. All sorts of fine peper, parchment, ink powder, fountain pens (!), fine pewter stands for office and counting houses. . . ."

Wise merchants back in the 1700's were telling the townsmen about their goods in the community's newspaper. Wise merchants of the 1930's are doing the same. They, like Ben Franklin, know where a penny can be turned to the most good.

BRINGING UP PARENTS

You hear and read much nowadays about the proper upbringing of children. Parents who may find themselves flabbergasted by the jargon of educational psychologists, or outsmarted by their own precocious offspring, might try and do an about face.

Like the scientist who tired of studying the natives and decided to find out what the natives were thinking of him, parents might wisely try to discover what their children think about them — if their egos can stand the stiff jolts they may receive.

A Chicagoan the other day asked several boys what they didn't like about home life. Their grievances were keen and cutting, but most penetrating jab of all was their common conclusion of the lads: "Parents never admit they're wrong."

Next thing you know, some child prodigy will spout forth with a book on the care and upbringing of parents. The tables have been turned before.

PITY POOR POLITICIANS

Trying to ride a skittish patronage horse in the political derby these days is as irksome to the jockey as it is dangerous to the derby followers who press too closely.

Time was when the rider who was "up" could return the favor to the boys who boosted him into the saddle. But the political patronage system is being replaced by the civil service system, leaving fewer and fewer plums for distribution. To make matters worse, from the standpoint of some politicians—and worse yet from that of the near-politicians who expect some kind of berth from services rendered—even the jobs outside state service are hard to deal out, what with the A. F. of L. and C. I. O. restrictions. Even the jobs that might have been forthcoming under administration of the $5,000,000 Golden Gate Exposition fund have got themselves all tied up in rulings from the attorney general's office.

The boys are all shaking their heads and opining, "There certainly ain't no justice."

We Hope His Aim Is Bad

Politically Speaking

By Jack Welter
United Press Staff Correspondent

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 28.—(UP)—Although Assemblyman Samuel W. Yorty of Los Angeles appears to be its principal standard bearer, an initiative proposal for a unicameral legislature seems to have few friends among other legislators.

Among the most outspoken opponents of this newest idea to bloom from southern California's fertile field of political panaceas is Assemblyman Jefferson E. Peyser, San Francisco republican.

"To adopt a one-house legislature for California would be a step toward destruction of the constitutional principle of checks and balances," Peyser said.

"There already has been too great a manifestation of this tendency. State's rights and functions already are being absorbed and concentrated to too great an extent in Washington. Such concentration is not in line with our democratic theory of government."

"Few of us have not had legislative measures defeated in the other house. For my part, I would rather take my chances with two-house legislation. The senate is composed of able, seasoned men. They have been criticized frequently as ultra-conservative, but even if they were, a two-house legislature remains vastly preferable to one which would violate the constitutional lineup of checks and balances."

A dozen or more other legislators commenting on Yorty's proposal—as yet undertaken only by Nebraska—have expressed views similar to Peyser's.

There persists in capitol circles the impression that some of Yorty's enthusiasm has resulted from his experiences of the 1937 session when the senate killed his little Wagner act and other liberal legislation.

Isador Zellerbach, veteran fish and game commissioner, is 100 per cent behind an initiative measure to be submitted to voters in 1938 proposing to place all sardine fisheries under jurisdiction of the commission.

The issue, disputed for years and subject of scores of heated legislative battles, will find its way to the ballot after failing to win sufficient legislative support during the 1937 session to become a law.

Zellerbach, who is proud of his 14 years of commission service under four governors—none of whom he has petitioned for appointment—advocates approval of the measure from the standpoint of the conservationist.

Citing the fact that sardine fishermen operating off the California coast are experiencing one of their worst seasons, Zellerbach said:

"The 1936 sardine catch totaled approximately 760,000 tons as compared to the limit of a couple of hundred thousand tons prescribed when the commission had jurisdiction over the industry."

"This year, the catch won't amount to half that much because the fish aren't there."

"If some regulation is not placed upon the industry, it eventually will cease to exist. There is little or no regulation now. The commission retains control over on-shore plants, but there's virtually no regulation because to regulate shore plants and let off-shore fisheries operate without restriction would amount to unfair discrimination."

Reports compiled by N. B. Scofield, chief of the state bureau of commercial fisheries, appear to bear out Zellerbach's argument.

August reports showed fishing boats making very poor catches and September brought luck little, if any, better.

Shore plants of the Monterey and San Francisco bay areas took 35,354 tons of sardines in September, Scofield reported, bringing their total for the August 1—September 30 season to 40,239 tons against last year's total of 83,732 tons for the same period.

Estimated haul of the five floating reduction plants operating during September was approximately 15,000 tons.

Gov. Frank F. Merriam's delay in appointing two new commission members required by a new law increasing membership from three to five, meantime, is making it impossible for the commission to meet.

With one member on an extended trip east, and a three-man quorum required under the new law, the two members at home are forced to sit by and await their absent comrade's return or the governor's appointment. Two members constituted a quorum under the old commission setup.

Zellerbach was an outspoken opponent of the expanded commission, contending the two new members were not needed.

Miss Florence Bosse Gives New Athletic Equipment To Tahoe School Boys

TAHOE CITY, Lake Tahoe, Oct 28—Miss Florence Bosse of Vagabondia Lodge, Lake Forest, was the kindly donor of a basketball set, soft balls and bats for the use of the local school. They were gratefully added to the school's limited equipment.

Plans have been drawn and approved by the local trustees for an additional room to be added to the Tahoe Lake schoolhouse. Need for extra accommodations was felt keenly this summer when overcrowding resulted with the influx of summer residents. A room approximately the size of the present classroom, will be built to the wing housing the activities room, construction to be started as soon as the snow melts sufficiently in the spring.

An epidemic of colds and grippe has been going the rounds at Tahoe with scarcely a family escaping the annoying malady.

WINTER SPORTS AT TAHOE DISCUSSED; PLAN FOR GAMES

TAHOE CITY, Lake Tahoe, Oct 28—The Lake Tahoe Ski Club was honored by the California Chamber of Commerce last month when invited to send participants to the sportsmen's show being held at Oakland on October 29-30 and 31 at the Oakland auditorium.

A novel stunt will be attempted during the three day celebration by building a special ski jump which will start near the ceiling with a takeoff at the balcony, the leap to be made on carpet instead of snow.

Six boys from the Tahoe Ski club will be guests of the chamber over the three day period. Sigurd Ulland, class A state champion for the past two years and winner of the combined events and down-hill championship last year at Yosemite will head the group included in which will be David Renner, Walter Mandeville, Oliver Hendrikson, James Worden and Charles Hendrikson, all stars in the field of winter sports.

State Directors Henry Worden, J. Ernest Pomin and A. M. Henry, the president of the Tahoe club, will go to Sacramento on Saturday to attend the annual California Ski Association meeting to be held at the Hotel Senator. At that time various controversial matters will be ironed out and dates set for the sanctioned winter tournaments.

Mrs. Henry will accompany the group to Sacramento, she and Henry to continue on to Oakland for the sportsmen's show.

The first ski meeting of the season was held Friday presided over by President Henry. The school house will be the meeting place for the club members for the rest of the season. Meetings will be held every other Friday night, the next being scheduled for November 5. Enthusiasm ran high as plans were mapped for an active winter sports program.

Following the meeting, four cars of ski members descended upon the Tahoe Pines home of Mr. and Mrs. John Pingree where a celebration which included refreshments, held forth until a late hour.

Contractor Injures His Hand on Power Saw; Loses Part of Finger

TAHOE CITY, Lake Tahoe, Oct 28—William G. Gough of Tahoe suffered a painful accident on October 19 when part of a finger on his right hand was cut off during the operation of a power saw. Gough is a building contractor engaged in erecting the Schleuter cottages at Tahoe Park.

Following first aid treatment, the injured man was rushed to the office of Dr. Bernard in Truckee.

LIBRARY AT TAHOE TEMPORARILY AT ANDERSON HOME

TAHOE CITY, Lake Tahoe, Oct 28—Mrs. A. M. Anderson, Tahoe City's librarian, announced this week that only nine books of fiction were lost in the recent fire.

Mrs. Faye K. Russell, county librarian was a visitor at the lake on Monday from Auburn and expressed appreciation for the thoughtfulness of the men who saved a good two thirds of the books contained on the library shelves.

The Anderson home in town will serve as the library until permanent quarters can be found. The hours are from 2 to 4 Mondays, Wednesdays and Saturdays.

A mass meeting will be called late this week for the purpose of taking steps to secure a new building in which the ski and women's clubs may resume their activities.

ELMER SMITH DIES IN UTAH AUTO WRECK

TAHOE CITY, Lake Tahoe, Oct 28—Elmer H. Smith, 25, of Brockway and Victor M. Jones, 36, of Utah, were killed Sunday when their automobiles collided headon 36 miles east of Westover, Utah. The accident occurred when Jones attempted to pass a truck and crashed into the Smith

LOSS OF FIRE AT LAKE LESS THAN FIRST REPORT INDICATED

TAHOE CITY, Lake Tahoe, Oct 28—Revised estimates of the loss in Tahoe's recent disastrous fire have lowered considerably the original figure.

Matt Green, president of the Tahoe Mercantile company, declared this week he did not expect the company loss to exceed $35,000. The three safes over which steady streams of water had been flowing for several hours to cool them, were opened Sunday and the contents were found to be intact and in good condition. No jewelry or silver or other such valuables were declared to have been in the safes.

Another erroneous report was that Postmaster Jane Watson climbed into the building to save her cats. It is true she made an attempt to do so but the log on which she stood broke tumbling her into the waters of the lake injuring her elbow. Gerald Lewis is credited with making the rescue, breaking a back window with a rock and climbing the wall. With the aid of a flashlight he located the terrified kitten under a safe, the mother cat perishing in the fire.

Temporary quarters for the post office have been established in the Cash and Carry next to Bennies Inn where the mercantile was opened for business the day following the fire. It is probable this will be the location all during the winter although no mail boxes will be installed until permanent quarters are established car, according to reports received here.

Smith was arrested this summer at Tahoe by Constable Harry Johanson and Patrolman Gene Walker on a warrant charging him with passing forged checks. His trial proved futile when Smith's attorney moved for a dismissal of the charge due to the failure of the district attorney to produce affidavits or other evidence to prove the checks were forged.

Smith was given ten days in which to make good the checks passed in the Tahoe region totaling $80 or more.

Constable Johanson located a sister of the dead man living in Los Angeles whom he notified of the tragedy.

Tahoe Ramblings

(By SWANEE)

Joe Henry was the lucky member of a hunting expedition into Nevada on Sunday for pheasant, the season lasting only Sunday and Monday. He brought home a pair.

Fire more than a week ago caused by exploding gas, wreaked damage estimated at between $300 and $400 at the E. B. King summer home near the Tavern. Paint was scorched and burned, woodwork charred and curtains and linoleum destroyed. The unusual accident occurred as Jess Sisk caretaker at the place, was at work on the water heater, a valve of which was leaking. A spark from his wrench set off the sudden explosion which fortunately he managed to escape uninjured. Ed Bosen who was assisting him was not so fortunate, receiving burned arms. The men by means of vigorous application of fire extinguishers managed to confine the blaze to the kitchen and pantry. Presence of mind on the part of Sisk in severing the supply pipe leading from the gas tank to the heater probably saved destruction of the entire house. The damage was covered by insurance.

Mrs. Court Smith, wife of the San Quentin warden, has been enjoying a visit at Tahoe where she is later. Mail must be called for by 5 p. m. daily, departing mail leaving during the winter months at 4:30.

Customers were delighted Friday to note that A. M. (Red) Anderson, the Merc's friendly clerk, has again returned to serve them behind the counter.

While rebuilding plans seem at present indefinite, the most popular course would be to build on top on the hill. It is said that only a few favor the old location, known as the Tahoe Commons, which during the height of the summer season swarms with automobiles and during heavy storms of winter proved completely inaccessible to machines for weeks at a time. It is hoped to transpose the commons into a park.

FELIX KUCHLER DIES; RITES HELD AT LAKE

TAHOE CITY, Lake Tahoe, Oct 28—Shortly after 2 p. m. on Monday, friendly hands lowered the inexpensive gray coffin holding the mortal remains of 79-year-old Felix Kuchler into a sheltered grave in the quiet little Tahoe cemetery on the hillside above the golf links. Yellow jaundice claimed Tahoe's "Old Man of the Mountains" on Saturday at the Auburn county hospital where he was taken several weeks ago by Constable Harry Johanson, when overcome with failing health after 40 years residence at the lake.

Simple graveside services, conducted by his old friend, Arthur Delbo, were attended by nearly 30 of the town's residents. Tears glistened in the eyes of his old cronies as they stood, heads bared and bowed, warm sunlight streaming through the tower-the houseguest of Mr. and Mrs. Matt Green at their Tahoe Park home.

Mrs. Jean Shebley is in charge of the switchboard at Homewood for the next few weeks where she is relieving Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Bowman regular winter operators, who are vacationing in Texas.

Mrs. Gerda Kvistberg and grandson Jimmie Easton of Tahoe Park spent Saturday in Reno visiting at the home of her son and daughter in law, Mr. and Mrs. Pine Benson.

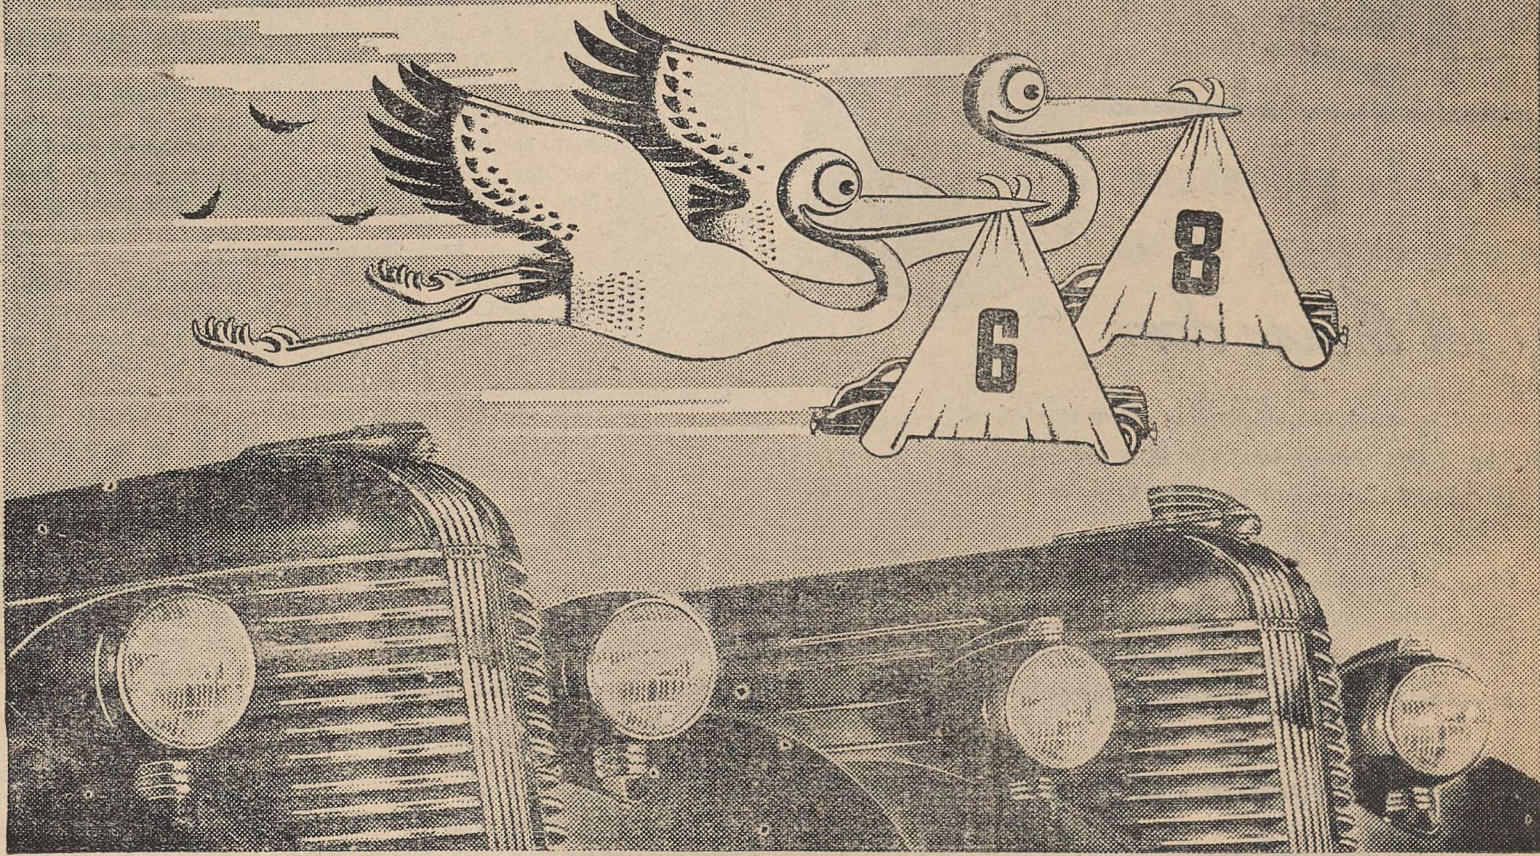

The Tahoe Women's club met at the home of Mrs. George Bliss on Thursday. Future meetings will be held in the local school house.

Everett E. Prusse is recovering this week from a painful attack of arthritis suffered more than a week ago. He was able to be about on Friday.

Constable Harry Johanson last week lost his pet deer, a recent gift from Henry Kaiser, Sr., of Tall Pine. Billie, four year old buck was attacked by one of Johanson's powerful huskies, Saska, who has mastered the uncanny trick of climbing wire mesh hog fencing, which encloses the kennels. Unable to master his inbred killer instinct, he made his way over the seven foot fences, attacked and killed the little buck during the absence of his master.

OLIVERS FETED AT RECEPTION BY HOBARTITES

The friends of Mr. and Mrs. T. K. Oliver of Hobart Mills tendered them a farewell dinner at the California cafe in Truckee last Thursday evening. Mr. Oliver will sever his connections with the Hobart Estate company on November 1 and will go to Deleker where he will assume the management of the Feather River Lumber company.

Plans were laid for the dinner and everyone was in the banquet room when Mr. and Mrs. Oliver, who had been invited to dine at the cafe with Mr. and Mrs. Joe Jouett to celebrate Mr. Jouett's birthday, arrived.

The surprise was a complete one for Mr. Oliver. Mrs. Oliver was aware of the plans and had arranged to spend a few days in town from her home in Berkeley to be here on the occasion but Mr. Oliver was so overcome that words were impossible at that time.

A delicious dinner was served to 80 guests and at the conclusion of the dinner, Charles Carrau arose and as toastmaster addressed a few chosen remarks to Mr. Oliver and his wife, stating it was just the gathering of some of his old friends and associates that it was possible to get together on so short notice, to express their good wishes for as successful a career in his new position as he and his father, G. D. Oliver,

FORESTRY DIVISION USES PLANES FOR GUARDING TIMBER

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 28.—(UP)—California's division of forestry, profiting by experience of the federal forest service, is drawing nearer to widespread use of airplanes in protecting the state's timber and scenic resources.

Federal records show that airplanes have saved both time and money in virtually every instance they have been called into use in fire fighting.

They also have proven invaluable in locating spot fires breaking out while ground crews are engaged in battling a major conflagration. An instantaneous and efficient liaison is maintained between flying scouts and ground suppression crew dispatchers by means of a two-way short wave radio.

An instance in which this type of work proved highly efficient occurred recently in a southern county when crews were fighting a major blaze. Airplane scouts located several spot fires breaking out and by means of radio were able to report them to ground dispatchers in time to get crews to the scene and control them before they could spread to serious proportions over a valuable forest area.

Still another value which the state has proven to its satisfaction is the efficiency with which key men may be transported to the scene of a forest blaze, rips which would have required days by other mediums of travel have been made in a few hours by air.

Forestry officials cited a recent northern California fire as exemplifying this. A lookout sighted a fire in a territory he knew. He believed it would require a suppression crew of at least 100 men. An airplane flew over the distant territory an hour later, however, establishing that only one tree was afire and that 10 men could control the blaze.

This Week At The State Capitol

By JOHN ABBOTT
United Press Staff Correspondent
SACRAMENTO, Oct. 28.—(UP)—Members of a conservation committee appointed to survey water and soil problems in the central California basin, met with state engineers during the week, heard requests for recommendation of $477,000,000 in projects submitted by various counties in the basin.

The committee was one of five groups which will make similar studies for the remainder of the state, and report findings to the federal national resources committee. Although it was conceded many of the plans would be rejected, individual communities, most of whom have proposed the same ideas to their state and national legislative representatives, hoped for the best and thought, apparently, there was no harm in trying.

Included in the projects recommended, however, was the $170,000,000 Central Valley project, already under construction and for part of which funds have been appropriated.

The committee for the southern California basin will meet soon in the state building at Los Angeles to receive a report on its district.

The northern California-Oregon, the eastern California and the lower Colorado basin committees also have scheduled meetings within two weeks.

Capitol circles were shocked with the news of the death of Clifford Russell, one of the state's leading attorneys, in an automobile accident on the Yolo causeway near here.

The popular attorney, 46 years old, had established a reputation as an outstanding criminal lawyer. He defended Assemblyman Gene Flint of Los Angeles, indicted on charges of legislative graft and corruption, in two trials. The action was dropped when both juries disagreed.

Hugh C. Smith and Alfred Paine, scheduled to die last Friday for the murder of North Sacramento Police Chief E. G. Fish in 1935, received their fourth reprieve from Governor Frank F. Merriam.

The governor explained he had issued the stay of execution at the request of the advisory pardon board, which asked more time to study a plea that the two Alameda youths be given a commutation to life imprisonment.

Resignation of Dan E. Williams, veteran state senator from the 26th district, was announced by the governor's office. Williams offered no reasons, but he automatically vacated the position when he established legal residence several weeks ago at Moscow, Idaho, preparatory to filing suit for divorce.

Williams, who represented Toulumne, Mariposa and Calaveras counties in the upper house, was a resident of Sonora. He served eight sessions.

Members of the state prison board said they favored William J. Ryan, captain of the guard at Folsom, as the successor to the late Folsom Warden Clarence A. Larkin.

The new warden probably will not be named until the next board meeting November 6 at San Quentin, the chairman, T. N. Harvey of Bakersfield announced.

Ryan, convalescing from stab wounds suffered in the rioting last month, left a Sacramento hospital this week.

Plans for a "radio newspaper" service, which will transmit news facsimiles over two of the McClatchy Broadcasting company's four California stations, was announced by G. C. Hamilton, general manager of the McClatchy newspapers.

DEALER IN STANDARD STOVE OIL

All set? listen: HERE'S THE ENGINEERING MUST STORY OF THE YEAR!

Featuring the DYNAFLASH
ENGINE and TORQUE-FREE
SPRINGING — in the Most Modern Chassis in the World

You won't drive a hundred yards in a new Buick without realizing that something marvelously new and different is happening here.

It's something that happens in no other car, in no other engine.

Speeding through the intake manifold, the fuel charge hurries into the cylinder at something like 250 miles an hour.

Leaping to meet it is the piston, with a unique device called a Turbulator built into its face.

Then occurs something more than high compression—literally cyclompression—as swirling gasoline vapor is compacted about the spark plug.

The spark sets off a fast-size hurricane—and gasoline gives up more performance than it ever gave up in a commercial engine before!

This livelier, smarter power might seem enough for engineers to lavish on a car in a single year.

But matching DYNAFLASH power in importance is Buick TORQUE-FREE SPRINGING and its arrolite ride.

Take a Buick over a railroad crossing—around a curve—over bumps.

There's no thud and chatter, no tail-swing or roll; you cover rough going with the silk-smoothness of a panther on the prowl.

All because old-type leaf springs are gone! In their place, each wheel has a soft, shock-smothering cushion of stout coiled steel.

Skid risks are blessedly reduced. Rear tires last longer. The whole car handles more easily! That's TORQUE-FREE SPRINGING at work!

If it's power you're after, you'll want Buick's DYNAFLASH engine. If it's comfort, you'll choose the TORQUE-FREE SPRINGING ride.

With either you get the other—plus half a score of features your Buick dealer is waiting to describe. See him now—for the engineering "must" story of the year!
